

THE DRINKS MENU

We love a well-crafted beer easily as much as we adore a brilliant burger. We're also keen on wine, cocktails, shakes and softies. Each has its place. At Stock, the place for those is on the other side. This side is for our speciality: beer.

LAGER

We all know lager. Gold, cold, fizzy, not too bitter. Beyond those basics lies a world of discovery. Begin with one of these.

HARVIESTOUN SCHIEHALLION

4.8% • Clean, complex, bracing - like the Munro it's named after.

[£4.40]

MEANTIME LONDON LAGER

4.5% • Kentish hops, East Anglian malt, epic taste. A classic.

[£4.30]

BROOKLYN LAGER

5.2% • They say 'tastes good, makes your meal better.' They're right.

[£4.00]

WHEAT

Wheat beers are cloudy, strong, spiced and usually pale. Not always though.

BLUE MOON

5.4% • Beers like this don't come along all that often. Belgian in style. American in origin, and served with an optional slice of orange. Quite the event.

DARK, RUBY & RED

Dark beers come in all colours except beige. Some are spicy, others floral. All taste just great.

FREUDIAN SLIP

6.5% • Our friends at Naked Beer chanced upon this rich, Belgian-style beauty when experimenting. Like many an apparent accident, it reveals great depth.

[£5.00]

BLONDE

A step nearer ale, blonde beers combine depth of flavour with the lightness of lager. Quite strong, too.

VEDETT

6.5% • Lemony, creamy, malty. Belgian, strong. A real mouthful.

[£4.30]

IPA

IPA stands for India Pale Ale, brewed in response to requests from the Empire for a beer that would travel well by ship. Higher alcohol and stronger hops did the trick. They still do.

DOGFISH DNA

4.5% • American style, Bedford brewed. Toasty, nutty, stylish.

[£4.50]

13 GUNS

5.5% • American style, Blackburn brewed. Packs a punch.

[£4.30]

BREWDOG PUNK IPA

5.6% • A 'post-modern classic' - in tribute to yesteryear.

[£4.60]

FLYING DOG SNAKE DOG

7.1% • Big on citrus aromas. Big on everything in fact.

[£5.25]

PORTER

Porter indicates a dark beer, originally popular with London's market porters but now brewed all over.

CURIOUS PORTER

5.0% • Chapel Down mainly make fine wine, and apply some of the same skills to this distinctive dark beer: oak chips, for example, for balance. It carries it well.

LOW ALCOHOL & CIDER

These days a low-alcohol beer from a craft brewer actually tastes like beer. Unlike cider, which tastes of lovely trees.

BREW DOG NANNY STATE

0.5% • Dry-hopped to the brink and back, with a backbone of 8 different speciality malts. Nanny State is the real deal.

ORCHARD PIG REVELLER

4.5% • Crisp, refreshing and lightly sparkling with a tangy, limey note. Thanks, Somerset.

PALE ALE

Pale ale makes a great introduction to a fuller, more hop-driven style. Old world versions are maltier. Americans hoppier. We recommend trying both.

MEANTIME LONDON PALE ALE

4.3% • Refreshingly bitter; great with food.

KERNEL PALE ALE

5.3% • From London, but south of the river. Almost a local.

[£5.25]

SIERRA NEVADA

5.6% • The original American Pale. An icon.

[£5.00]

PILSNER

When the city of Plzen first brewed a beer with Bavarian techniques, local hops and soft Czech water it caused a sensation. It's still sensational.

PILSNER URQUELL

4.4% • The original sensation from 1842, slightly fuller-flavoured than many other lagers.

PORTOBELLO LONDON PILSNER

4.5% • Full, rounded, properly built, taking the time it takes.

OAK AGED

If you want whisky to taste of ale, you have to leave ale in oak for a while. Turns out it's pretty good for the beer too.

INNIS & GUNN ORIGINAL

6.6% • Strong, Scottish. Woody. A caber in a bottle.

[£4.50]

FRUIT

Why add fruit to beer? It adds taste, tartness, character and colour. Why not?

LIEFMANS KRIEK BRUT

6.0% • Contains cherries, comes from Belgium. A ruby revelation.

[£5.00]

OUR HOUSE BREWS

CRAFTED TO BE PERFECT WITH BURGERS.

Following the upsurge of interest in beers that actually taste of something, Britain is now firmly in the grip of the craft beer revolution. Hops haven't seen this much radical creativity for decades. Long may it last.

NAKED BEER CO. STOCK BURGER IPA

Fantastically thirst-quenching, this wonderful IPA is crafted for us by our local brewery with (among others) American Mosaic hops. It's also the magic ingredient in our soon-to-be-world-famous Craft Beer sauce. Tropical aromas give way to a clean, dry finish and, usually, another round.

SHIPYARD BREWING CO. MARSTON'S PALE ALE

An easy drinking, American-style Pale Ale crafted in Portland, Maine, near an actual shipyard and bursting with fruity citrus hop aroma and flavour. Dry-hopped with a quartet of American hop varieties - Chinook, Cascade, Columbus, and Centennial. See if you can pick them out.

4.5%

BEDLAM BREWERY BEDLAM PILSNER

Wonderfully refreshing, in a classic German style but brewed by solar power less than 10 miles away from here, on the farm where the hops are grown. Let the local sunshine in!

4.2%
[£0.00]
